No Build Resolution Passed for Electrical Power Line

By CARRIE PRAZAK-GOURLEY
The Waller Times
 On Wednesday, March 18, at 9 a.m., the Waller County Commissioners Court met in regular session at the Waller County Courthouse. Present were Commissioners Justin Beckendorff, Jeron Barnett, Russell Klecka, and John Amsler and County Judge Trey Duhon presided.
 At the beginning of the session, Prairie View resident David Allen presented plaques of appreciation to District Attorney Elton Mathis, Sheriff Glenn Smith, and Pct. 3 Constable Herschel C. Smith for their participation in the law enforcement forum held on February 17, and for what he proclaimed was their unified and overwhelming response to improving the area's crime rate with actions, and not just words.

 In further action, the court unanimously passed a Resolution to support a "no-build" option for the Brazos Valley Electric Transmission line slated to run through northeast Waller County.
 A no-build resolution calls for the county's right to review, approve or reject a project that would impact its residents. To fight the transmission line, Judge Duhon has also sought the expertise of the well-known property rights activists Dan and Margaret Byfield, also known as "Stewards of the Range", to advocate for the county, an action supported by the Waller County Advocacy Group.

 As it turns out, both Calpine and NRG Energy have come out in opposition to the new transmission line, saying it is unnecessary, and at a cost of $600 million, is a waste of taxpayer money. Both companies insist that ER-COT (Electrical Reliability Council of Texas) improperly endorsed the project.

Third Blood Moon of Lunar Tetrad to Occur Easter Weekend

By CARRIE PRAZAK-GOURLEY
The Waller Times
 Since the time of Christ, eight lunar tetrads or a series of four blood moons, have occurred that coincided with Jewish Holy days. All of these events have resulted in significant historical occurrences for both Jews and Christians.
 The next blood moon of the current lunar tetrad will occur on Saturday, April 4, which is not only the Jewish Passover, but the night before Easter.
 Blood moons look red because when the Earth eclipses a full moon, direct sunlight is blocked, but the sun's rays still light up the moon. The light, however, which travels through the Earth's atmosphere, is bent toward the red end of the light spectrum, which causes the appearance of the reddish-orange moon.
 Prior to the upcoming April 4 blood moon, other significant signs have appeared in the night sky. On March 20, a total eclipse of the sun took place, which was only visible in the far Northern Hemisphere. At the same time, the moon reached its perigee, or closest point to earth, causing the appearance of a "supermoon", which had a larger than average effect on the Earth's oceans.

 In the Bible, several verses point to the skies to seek a sign of Christ's return. In Joel 2:31 and Acts 2:20, "The sun shall be turned into darkness and the moon to blood, before the great and terrible day of the Lord."
 During the tetrads of the twentieth century, which occurred in 1948 and 1967, significant events occurred for the nation of Israel. The 1948 tetrad happened during the Israeli War for Independence, which resulted in Israel being declared a sovereign nation.
 In 1967, the Six Day War took place in which Israel recaptured Jerusalem as its capitol.
 Prior tetrads heralded more tumultuous events, such as the expulsion of the Jews from Spain in 1492, and the defeat of Christians

DRT No Longer Oversees Historic Alamo Grounds and Museum

By CARRIE PRAZAK-GOURLEY
The Waller Times
 After 110 years, citing 10 contractual breaches, the Texas General Land Office, under the leadership of new Commissioner George P. Bush, is terminating its contract with the Daughters of the Republic of Texas to oversee daily management of the Alamo.
 Commissioner George P. Bush thanked the Daughters of the Republic of Texas, stating "Without the early intervention of the Daughters of the Republic of Texas, we would not be able to celebrate the Shrine of Texas Liberty today..the Alamo has always had the same owner, the people of Texas. And so to meet the ever-increasing operational needs of the Alamo, the GLO has determined to change its day to day management from the DRT and move in a new direction."

An Alamo placard showcasing the historic donations from singer Phil Collins. Internet photo.

DRT President General Ellen McCaffrey responded, "While we regret our changing role in its daily management, it does not diminish our unending passion for the preservation of the Shrine of Texas Liberty, and we look forward to maintaining our library collection as a historical resource for all Texans to enjoy."
 For more than a century, members of the DRT have lovingly cared for and maintained the Alamo. This decision does not represent the end of the DRT's devoted service to the Alamo, but instead marks a new chapter in their remarkable story of dedication to Texas history.
 There is an expected transition period of 120 days to new management. During the transition, the GLO will issue a request for proposals to develop a strategic plan and

Waller Wonders - Ignorance is (sometimes) bliss

By NANCY ARNOLD

I have good intentions ... really I do. For instance, I'll go to bed thinking I will tackle that hall closet tomorrow. Then I wake up the next morning, and today, which was tomorrow yesterday, gets pushed to another day to be determined. Besides me, who even knows that hall closet is there, much less that it needs attention - a LOT of attention? So, I push it to another tomorrow.

Same thing with eating healthy (or exercising, or doing anything else that is for my well-being). I intend to eat healthy. I start the day with a bowl of oatmeal, no sugar, added fruit and nuts, a scant sprinkle of salt to keep it from tasting like wallpaper paste. I pack a healthy lunch, low in calories, high in protein and fiber.

Then someone says, "Let's go across the street for lunch." Okay! I'm standing at the door with my purse in hand. One of our favorites is a family-owned Mexican restaurant; good food, good service, good prices. Granted, I order the Summer Plate, but then there's that big basket of perfect chips and salsa. I could maybe justify some chips and salsa. But THIS place also puts a bowl of queso on the table - melted cheese! And just like that, my good intentions go sit on the patio where I can ignore them.

The other place across the street offers terrific food and good service, too. This food is perfect if you're going to go dig a two-mile long ditch, or roof a house. I'm just going to go back to my desk to sit, talk on the phone, or sometimes walk a few steps down the hall to our conference room, where I will again sit and talk.

Okay, so lunch at that place could, and often does, consist of the soup and sandwich special. That's a grilled cheese sandwich and tomato soup. Before you ask what could possibly be wrong with that, I will tell you.

The sandwich is on thick cut, rather substantial bread. It has three kinds of delicious, melty cheese oozing over the edges. Moreover, it has three thick slices of crisp jalapeno bacon. All of this yumminess is then toasted on a greased griddle.

The innocent-sounding tomato soup? It's a hearty-size "cup" with creamy tomato soup (creamy with cream!), generously garnished with toasted croutons (probably from the same bread as the sandwich), and sprinkled with grated cheese.

I have no idea how many calories this "soup and sandwich special" contains, nor am I ever going to ask, but I'm confident that it has multiple zeros in the total.

Which brings me to an article put out by Women's Health magazine. It's an evil chart showing what kind of activity a woman would have to do if she ate certain unhealthy things. Oh, and that woman weighs 130 pounds. I weighed that at one time. I think I was 25 years old and had lived on water and diet pills for a year.

So, here's the bad news shared by Women's Health: Eat one glazed donut (242 calories) and do 88 minutes of crunches to burn it. Enjoy a cheeseburger and fries (691 calories), and you'll do 141 minutes on the elliptical (that's over two hours!).

Two slices of pepperoni pizza can't be all that bad, right? Those 626 calories will require 159 minutes of climbing stairs. There's nothing about coming down the stairs, just climbing. How about those chips and queso I mentioned earlier (no portion size was mentioned, just 740 calories)? That takes 130 minutes of swimming to just break even.

Alright, I won't eat anything. I'll just stop by Sonic and have a soda. A 21-ounce soda, a mere 200 calories, would require 54 minutes of lunges. That's an hour of lunges, assuming you live! And don't even think about having a milkshake instead! Those 780 calories of delight would mean 72 minutes of jumping rope.

Bottom line: I think I'm going to have to up my good intentions. Like this afternoon, about three o'clock ... or as one of my co-workers calls it ... "chocolate hour" ... I wanted M&Ms. Just plain ol' chocolate M&Ms. Thank goodness I forgot that I had a bag in my desk drawer until I got over the urge.

A 1.69 ounce bag has 230 calories, with 31 grams of sugar ... 31 grams! That's about seven times the amount of sugar my nutritionist said should be in a serving of food. According to the WH article, I would be doing about 85 crunches to kill that one little bag of M&Ms.

Well, I certainly wouldn't be doing crunches ... but you get the picture. Now I must either hide that bag of M&Ms, or give it to someone who will actually DO 85 crunches!

I had a nice visit with my daughter and my granddaughter on Sunday. Ashlynn, who turns 15 on April 16, looked as fresh as a daisy ... despite the fact that she had just completed a 45 mile ... yes, I said 45 MILE ... bike ride that morning, starting and ending at the Waller stadium. She's in training to again ride the MS-150 bike ride from Houston to Austin in mid-April; that's 160 miles. I may have mentioned that she rode it for the first time last year while she was still 13. Her daddy is riding beside her the whole way, of course. He's not going to let anything happen to his baby girl!

Happy birthday to Lloyd Lee, Harold Powley, Glen Travis Rollins, Connor Tomczak, Bob Barbe, Nellie Schiel, Samuel Marino, Ray Jahm, Jason Mikeska, Jacob Bennett, Delmiro "Ray" Villanueva, Jordan Tisdale, Cutter Starr, Sharon McReavy, Shannon Stautmeister, Amanda Dunham, Tasha Bienski, Christopher Bellard, Randy Tomczak, Morgan Kunz, Preston Boenker, Mark Fasje, Berry S. Harrison, Kelly Cromeans, Kim Ingram, Tye Bundrant, Spencer Sloane, and Charles Kulhanek.

My grandson, Joseph Clayton Arnold, incredibly will already be five years old on April 2. Even more incredible is that I another birthday this Sunday.

Will Texas End Daylight Savings Time?

By CARRIE PRAZAK-GOURLEY

Daylight Savings Time in Texas could be a thing of the past if some Texas lawmakers have their way. HB150, if passed, would eliminate the twice-a-year time change.

Texas State Rep. Dan Flynn, who filed the bill to end Daylight Savings Time, says time change is no longer needed and is causing more problems than it solves. The bill has several co-sponsors and has received bipartisan support.

President Johnson signed Daylight Savings time into law in 1966, asking Americans to spring forward or turn their clocks back an hour in the fall. The intent of the law was to save energy at a time of rising oil prices. Yet, numerous studies, such as one conducted by the California Energy Commission, found energy savings to be a paltry .1 percent at best.

Other studies done by insurance companies and health agencies have shown that the time changes lead to more car and workplace accidents, and have a detrimental effect on the human psyche.

Many still believe the myth that DST was meant to help farmers. In fact, in the 1960's, powerful farm lobbyist opposed the change, and spoke out vociferously against it.

A famous quote from an American Indian wryly explains the situation by saying, "Only the government would believe you could cut a foot off the top of a blanket, sew it on the bottom, and have a longer blanket."

On Wednesday, March 11, the bill was considered in a public hearing, and testimony was given on both sides of the issue. At the present time, the bill is still pending in committee.

A second bill, filed by Representative James White, HB363, asks for the creation of a task force to conduct a study and develop recommendations on the efficacy of the continuation of Daylight Savings Time.

Last week, the New Mexico State Senate approved a bill, 28-11, to move their state off of DST. Fourteen other states are considering the same changes.

If the bill passes, it will go into effect on September 1, 2015, and Texas would join Arizona and Hawaii in ignoring the time change.

Texas Workforce Commission Recovers $10.5 Million in Unemployment Insurance Fraud

The Texas Workforce Commission (TWC) recovered a total of more than $10.5 million in fraudulent Unemployment Insurance (UI) benefit claims during calendar year 2014 (CY2014) through its collection efforts combined with the State Comptroller's warrant hold process and offsets to current UI benefit claims.

Of that total, TWC recovered nearly $3.1 million in fraudulently obtained UI benefits in CY2014 through TWC's Fraud Prosecutions Unit. TWC investigates, and refers to local district attorney offices, cases in which UI benefits are obtained through fraud or deception. Recovered funds will be returned to the Unemployment Compensation Trust Fund from which TWC pays unemployment benefits to individuals who have lost their job through no fault of their own.

Twelve Gulf Coast individuals from Galveston, Harris and Brazoria counties were prosecuted for state UI fraud in 2014 and were ordered to pay a total of $107,938 in restitution. In addition to restitution orders, individuals who commit UI fraud can be ordered to pay fines, perform hours of community service and some serve jail time. For a list of recent criminal dispositions listed by county, go to www.texasworkforce.org/ui/bnfts/prosecution-dispo.html.

"The Texas Workforce Commission is committed to preventing abuse of the UI program and prosecuting individuals who engage in fraud," said TWC Chairman Andres Alcantar. "Preserving the UI Trust Fund for the employers and workers of Texas is a top priority."

Debt to the state does not go away unless it is paid. The Texas Constitution prohibits forgiving such debt, and TWC continues to pursue and collect fraud, and overpayments obtained through fraud along with all other types of overpayments indefinitely. Examples of fraud include providing false information, failing to report all work and earnings when filing claim certifications for payment of benefits, and under-reporting earnings on claim certifications.

In addition, a claimant receiving fraudulently obtained UI benefits will pay a 15 percent penalty on top of the fraudulently obtained amount. TWC regularly cross matches UI claims with employer wage reports and other databases to detect possible UI fraud. If TWC discovers that claimants have received UI benefits through fraudulent applications, the agen-

John Isom Celebrates 35 Years with Waller Baptist Church

John and Barbara Isom celebrate 35 years of ministry at Waller Baptist Church on March 30, 2015.

John graduated from the University of Houston in 1970 with a business administration degree in accounting and served in the Army as a computer programmer at the Army Management Systems Support Agency at the Pentagon. After working for IBM as a computer systems analyst at NASA on Skylab and Space Shuttle programs, John accepted a call to WBC to serve as Minister of Music and Youth. John enjoyed eight years of working with the youth and recalls taking as many as 50 youth to summer camp.

He became Minister of Music and Education in 1988 after completing his master's degrees from Southwestern Seminary in Religious Education and Marriage and Family (and after getting too old for those all-night youth lock-ins). He has served as the President of the Singing Men of Southeast Texas.

He is currently serving WBC as bi-vocational Worship Pastor and Pastor of Senior Adults while also working in the community as the Director of the Waller Economic Development Corporation.

John and Barbara began dating at a high school summer youth camp and have been married since 1968. Barbara is retired from Waller ISD and is the love of his life.

They have two children, Danny and Christy, who grew up in WBC and attended K-12 in Waller ISD. Danny married Joanna Robinson and is currently the Production Director at Hill County Bible Church in Austin. They have four children. Christy is married to Captain Javier Barrera and they are currently stationed in Washington State. They have three children.

John's life verse is Proverbs 3:5-6: "Trust in the Lord with all your heart, and do not lean on your own understanding. In all your ways acknowledge Him, and He will make straight your paths."

RCS Student Advances to the National Spelling Bee

Allison Strange, an eighth grader at Rosehill Christian School, recently competed in the ACSI South Central Regional Spelling Bee on March 14, 2015 in Plano, Texas and will advance to the National Bee.

The top sixty spellers from the states of Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Missouri, Kansas, and Louisiana competed for five available spots to enter the ACSI National Spelling Bee on May 1-2, also in Plano, Texas. Allison placed second in the Regional Bee and advances to the National Spelling Bee.

She memorized over 1,700 published words that helped her make it through the first nine rounds of competition, lasting four hours. After that, the bee moved to an unpublished list, where she made it through six more rounds of unpublished words, four of which were a two-person competition for the regional championship.

Strange ultimately came in second to her long time rival and friend (from the same district), with whom she ironically battled 59 rounds and tied for the 8th grade gold medal back in January.

Strange has competed in spelling bees since first grade and has never lost a school spelling bee. She also has three gold medals, an overall district championship, and has qualified for the six-state Regional Bee three times, but this is her first trip to Nationals.

She gives all glory to God, and is proud to be representing RCS at the National Spelling Bee.

On October 17, 2015, the Public Utility Commission will hold a hearing on whether or not ERCOT followed proper procedure and conducted a full economic analysis before approving the project and whether it has established that a reliability problem really exists that would necessitate such an expenditure.

The court also voted 4-1 (Beckendorff opposed) to approve immediate engagement of an environmental law firm Fritz, Byrne, Head & Harrison, PCCE for legal services, and to exempt the same from competitive bidding. According to Duhon, the firm will be engaged to advise the county on the following issues: 1) Whether or not the county should participate with CALH in their Contested Case Hearing 2) to help rewrite the 2011 ordinance, and 3) advise the county on development of a comprehensive waste management plan.

Commissioner Beckendorff

objected to hiring the firm at this time and suggested there should be a search for at least three firms and competitive bidding before determination of the best firm is reached.

However, Judge Duhon stated that time was of the essence and that the court, already having delayed action due to a lengthy litigation and settlement process, now needs to move forward as quickly as possible.

"Fritz, Byrne, Head & Har-ison have had 34 years of experience in environmental law and have helped several counties resolve their environmental problems relating to landfills and other similar issues," stated Duhon.

Commission Amsler added, "These issues need to be dealt with posthaste. Time is of the essence."

The court also approved payment by a 3-2 vote, of $35,305.80 to Allison, Bass, & Magee for legal services. Amsler and Klecka were opposed.

Agency TEA Expedited Waivers were presented to the Board. A Class Size Exception waiver was submitted due to some classrooms exceeding the 22:1 student to teacher ratio due to growth. A timeline for Accelerated Instruction waiver that will assist those students who do not pass the state mandated tests after the third administration was presented.

A Staff Development through Subject Training and Teacher Data Portal of the Texas Assessment Management System waiver was presented to continue using the Eduphoria Aware program instead of the TEA system.

Assistant Superintendent of Finance, Mike Marcus, presented the consideration for purchasing three portable classroom buildings to assist with the growth spurt in enrollment in Waller ISD. The Board questioned the vendors, cost of the buildings compared to the square footage size, and the restroom size included in the building.

Marcus stated that all of the buildings were school district approved Buy Board vendors. The importance of every square foot of space value in a classroom was also discussed when it comes to instruction. Marcus stated that the buildings would be delivered by mid-April. The Waller ISD School Board authorized Superintendent Danny Twardowski to execute a contract with VLK Architects for potential bond projects.

In Information Items, Twardowski provided an overview of the PASA Population and Analysis Report. Waller ISD has approximately 400 more students enrolled in the District in comparison to this time last year. The enrollment growth is primarily on the eastern boundary of the district, and is mainly in the elementary schools. Assistant Superintendent for Administration, Kevin Moran, presented the TASB Policy Update 101.

St. Katharine Ladies Luncheon Held

On Saturday, March 14, the Altar Society of St. Katharine Drexel Parish held its annual Ladies Luncheon at the KC Hall in Hempstead.

The event to promote ecumenical unity, open to all ladies of the community, was headlined by the Sowell Family Pickers, a local bluegrass band that specializes in gospel songs and inspirational messages. The family group features all six children on various instruments, as well as the mother, with the father handling the support functions. The popular group performs annually at the Hempstead Watermelon

Festival and other area venues, as well as tours abroad in Europe.

Patsy Marburger prepared the silent auction with an assortment of 28 donated items. A cross arrangement crafted by Gene Flory was the high bid item. Sandy Brown provided a number of door prizes.

Lourdes Melchor and her group of Quinceanera young ladies from the parish provided servers during the event.

Many member ladies dressed in green for the gala affair to recognize the Irish of St. Patrick's Day.

Kathleen Cole is president of the Altar Society, with Shirley Newcomb as vice president and Luncheon Chairperson. Ann Killough serves as secretary, and Shirley Acock as treasurer. Josie Owen and Janie Plummer decorated the tables with the Irish motif, while Ellen Pelletier handled publicity and publications for the affair.

The Altar Society is a service organization of St. Katharine Drexel Church, open to all ladies of the parish. For more information about the Altar Society, including membership, please call Kathleen Cole at 409-658-8407.

conduct a nationwide search for a new management company.

Part of the new plans will include the development of an Alamo Visitor Center to house the hundreds of Alamo artifacts donated by British pop singer Phil Collins last June. The Alamo Endowment has been reconstituted as a major capital campaign to raise the millions of dollars needed for an Alamo museum and visitor center worthy of Phil Collins' renowned collection.

Last week, as a thank you for his expansive donation, the Texas State Legislature issued a resolution naming Collins an honorary Texan. Items donated by Collins include a rifle and leather pouch once owned by Crockett, as well as a knife owned by Bowie.

According to the concurrent resolution HCR 79, Collins became interested in the history of the Alamo when he saw Walt Disney's series Davy Crockett, King of the Wild Frontier as a child.

One stipulation on Collins' gift was that Texas would build a new facility at the Alamo, with the conservation technology needed to protect these priceless pieces of Texas history and to display them so that future generations of Texans and visitors could experience and learn from them.

On March 11, Collins was star for the day at the Capitol, posing for pictures and speaking to nearly every elected Texas official, including meeting with Governor Greg Abbott and GLO Commissioner George P. Bush at the Governor's Mansion.

GLO Commissioner Bush hopes to create a bigger, brighter future for the Alamo, a Texas shrine. The state has important work to do, catching up on long-deferred preservation efforts.

The story of Texas and the Alamo is one of independence, sacrifice, and courage. It's a timeless story of heroes who died so that others might live free. It's a universal story written in Texas, but read around the world.

For more information about the newly reconstituted Alamo Endowment or to donate, visit <http://thealamo.org/endowment>.

Fox 26 Anchor Melissa Wilson to Speak to HMS Students

By LAURIE BETTIS
HISD Public Information
 Melissa Wilson, Fox 26 Anchor and Medical Reporter, will help students at Hempstead Middle School get pumped up for the upcoming STAAR tests.

Wilson has agreed to be the guest speaker at the HMS Kick Off STAAR Pep Rally on Friday, March 27 at 1 p.m. in the high school auditorium. "We are excited to be able to have Mrs. Wilson come out and speak to our students before they begin their annual state assessments," said HMS Principal Lance Harjo. "Parents and community members are invited to attend the event." The middle school students will begin the state assessments with the 7th grade writing STAAR test on Monday, March 30, and Tuesday, March 31. Math, social studies, reading and science testing will begin on April 20.

According to her bio, Emmy Award Winning Wilson is the Co-Anchor for FOX 26 Morning News weekdays from 7 to 10 a.m. Then, she loves to head out to the Texas Medical Center and throw on comfy scrubs and follow doctors and patients through procedures, as Medical Reporter for FOX 26. Melissa Co-Anchored the prime time FOX 26 News at 9 p.m. for 10 years, as part of the longest running anchor team at FOX 26. by Muslims when warrior caliphs waged war against the Christian Byzantine Empire. The Byzantine Empire lasted for over 1,250 years and historians agree that without Byzantium to protect it, Europe would have been overrun by Islamic invaders.

Many books have been written about the current tetrad of blood moons and the end times.

In regards to prophecy in Revelation 6:12, St. John stated: "And I beheld when he had opened the sixth seal, and lo, there was a great earthquake and the sun became as sackcloth of hair and the moon became as blood."

In Genesis 1:14, God specifically said that He created the heavens "to be signs." We also know that the wise men were led by a star, which is recorded in Matthew 2:12, "...there came three wise men from the east to Jerusalem, saying, where is he that is born King of the Jews? For we have seen His star in the East and are come to worship him."

What does this all mean? Jesus said that only the Father knows the day and hour of His return, but many today feel we are living in times reminiscent of 1938 or 1939, the days leading up to WWII, when events spun out of control, leading the world to the brink of destruction.

As for the current tetrad, which began with the first blood moon on April 15, 2014, many significant events have occurred. Whether these events are related to the signs in the heavens will be up to each individual to interpret.

Since April of 2014, for instance, the rise of ISIS and increased persecution of Christians has occurred; Russia has taken control of the Crimea and has entered the Ukraine, and Iran continues its march to obtaining a nuclear weapon.

Despite these events, one thing is certain: Christians need not be afraid. None of us know the day or the hour of Christ's return. As Jesus said in Matthew 6:25,27: "Therefore do not worry about your life, what you will eat or drink, or about your body, what you will wear; is not life more than food and the body more than clothes? Can anyone of you by worrying add a single day to your life?"

Without a doubt, however, significant events are occurring in our time, and if nothing else, look to the blood moons as a sign or signal to remember what's important in life. Perhaps God is reminding us in every way possible to turn to Him.

So, on the Eve of Easter, whether you believe the blood moon is a sign from God or merely a scientific phenomenon, you might want to look to the heavens to observe this spectacular celestial event.

And be not afraid, for as the Bible states in Luke 21:38, "When these things begin to take place, stand up and lift up your heads because your redemption is drawing near."

cy pursues immediate reimbursement of overpayments.

"The Texas Workforce Commission is steadfast in its efforts to prevent UI fraud," said TWC Commissioner Representing Labor Ronny Congleton. "We will continue to work with employers and the State Comptroller's office to detect any fraudulent activity."

"Through the hard work of the Regulatory Integrity Division at TWC, we are able to deter fraud and provide the employers and workers of Texas with the services they need," said TWC Commissioner Representing Employers Hope Andrade.

TWC's Regulatory Integrity Division is charged with detecting and preventing fraud, waste and abuse of the unemployment benefits system. A UI claimant may be committing fraud if they:

- Start work and do not accurately report work and work hours when requesting a benefit payment

- Do not accurately report gross earnings (before taxes or deductions) when requesting a benefit payment

- Do not report a job separation (for example, fired, quit, laid off) that occurred while receiving unemployment benefits, intentionally give false information or withhold relevant information

- Use another person's identity to apply for benefits

TWC enforces all regulatory statutes within its jurisdiction, including UI Tax, Workforce Programs, Trade Act, Skills Development, Self-Sufficiency, Child Care, Payday Act, and all other agency-administered programs. Prevention, detection and elimination of fraud, waste and abuse in the UI program are top priorities at TWC, ensuring that funds are available exclusively to those who meet the eligibility requirements.

To report suspected UI fraud, call the TWC Fraud and Program Abuse Hotline at 800-252-3642.

Memphis "Bubba" Wells, an 8-year-old 2nd grader at Holleman Elementary School in Waller, participated in the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo's Rodeo Rockstar contest, along with 66 other entrants. Memphis was the youngest in the entire contest, and the only boy in the Junior Division. This is only his second contest; his first contest was at the Waller County Fair Talent Showdown in 2014, where he won Grand Champion. Memphis was also Little Mr. Waller County in 2013. During the Rockstar on-stage interview, emcee Katie Key asked him if he had three wishes what would they be? He answered, "to be rich and have $100 dollars, to be famous for singing, and to meet Jesus". Memphis is a straight A student and his proud parents are Micah and Cherith Wells, and biggest fan is little sister Paisley, who is age 6. Submitted photo.

PRAYERS

Dear Heart of Jesus, in the past I have asked for favors. This time I'll ask you this very special one (mention favor). Take it dear Jesus and place it within your own heart where your father sees it. Then in your merciful eyes it will become your favor not mine. Amen. Say this prayer for 3 days, promise publication & favor will be granted. Never known to fail.

Didn't I just have one a few months back? For Joseph, it probably feels like an eternity between birthdays! Me, not so much. It's all in one's perspective, I guess!

Anniversary greetings to Bill and Shelby Barrett, Tommy and Carlene LaBorde, Maurice Jr. and Jeanell Hart, Melissa and Josh Crosby, and Russell and Katie Holz.

Public Service Announcement: Waller Police Chief Phil Rehak reports an uptick in thefts from vehicles all across Waller. The common denominator? Most of the vehicles were not locked. The thieves just opened the door and took whatever was inside.

Didn't even set off alarms. The takeaway from that is: LOCK YOUR CAR when you aren't inside it, even if you're just running inside for a couple of minutes.

Until next week ...
